Wild Boar Hunt
in ITALY
half board

We are a Danish family who lives in Italy and enjoy hunting here - something that is otherwise virtually impossible for foreigners. Hunting in Italy requires a hunting license, insurance, affiliation to the local Hunting Board and to a hunting team. But we have been lucky - and have become part of an Italian hunting consortium - and we want to give others the opportunity to experience this side of Italy.

We are not a travel agent in the conventional sense and therefore can not offer ready-made packages with flights. But we plan and arrange everything else. We provide accommodation with full board, 3 days of wild boar hunting, and we provide you with an Italian hunting license through the right Italian authorities.

The area in which we live has many wild boar and, although of course there is no guarantee of shooting one or more animals, there often is a very good hunt.

From October to December, we give our guests an opportunity to join the local hunters and hunt animals in the wild exactly as people in the Carpina Valley have done for generations. You may not return with a trophy, but you will bring back with you the taste of an authentic Umbrian experience.

We arrange weekly programmes as well as long week-end ones for groups of 4 to 6 hunters. We can also accommodate up to six non-hunters.

We will be pleased to discuss tailor made programmes with you including any additional activities which may interest you .

As it can be difficult and expensive to bring weapons to Italy, we can also offer assistance to rent a weapon - saving you as a English hunter both for the hassle and unnecessary expenses.

In addition to the hunting we can also arrange truffle hunting, visits to local producers of wine, oil and cheese, guided tours to both cities and nature experiences, cooking courses and much more.

Types of hunt

Wild Boar in the Wild

Hunting days are Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from October to December.

The hunt is a driven hunt with a pack of dogs who drive the prey towards the hunters' positions. Each hunter is appointed a position and will be accompanied by a member of the hunting team who will assist him during the hunt.

The hunt lasts four hours in the morning and is followed by lunch in the open air with the hunters. Those who wish may resume hunting in the afternoon.

Hunting in a Reserve

Hunting on a reserve can take place all year round every day except Tuesdays and Fridays.

One can hunt pheasant and partridge, wild boar and deer.

The reserve provides the animals you require, dogs, guns, ammunition and a guide to assist you.

You can hunt fowl (Pheasant and Partridge), wild boar and roe deer.

Indicative pricing:

Fowl: a charge of € 20,00 for each bird released as per you requirement.

Boar: a charge of €10,00 per kilo for each boar shot

Deer: a charge of € 300 to € 1.000 (depending on the size) for each deer shot.

Prices include a guide, transportation within the reserve, dogs, a shotgun and ammunition.

An additional charge of € 30,00 per day is payable for a rifle.

Hunters without licenses must be accompanied by a guide which will be charged € 80,00 per day.

This activity is reserved for our guests and the above pricing is in addition to the cost of the stay at the estate.

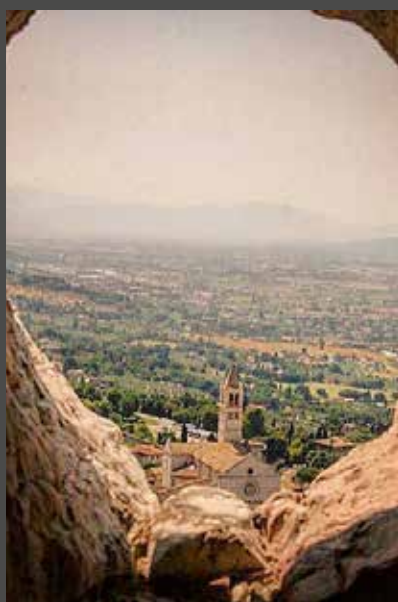

EU NATIONALS

EU nationals will need to contact their nearest police station and request the issue of a European Firearms Permit (EFP) which you must bring with you. A copy of this permit will allow us to apply for the relevant documents required at this end:

- Temporary Hunting License
- Affiliation to Local Hunting Board
- Affiliation to Local Hunting Team
- Insurance

On arrival in Italy you will be allowed to transport your gun from the airport to the place where you will be hunting and we will provide you with a letter of invitation from the local hunting team to facilitate matters at the airport. You will have 90 days to re-export the gun.

Please take note that not all airlines accept to carry firearms and you will need to make sure that your chosen airline will allow you to do so.

Casa Vialba

The Estate

Casa Vialba has a long history dating back to 1200 when it was a church belonging to monks.

Casa Vialba has been restored with great love and respect for its ancient origins and the surrounding landscape.

Casa Vialba is almost a tiny village resting on the gentle flanks of a hill overlooking the river Carpina and the country lane that winds its way up the valley.

The main house, its 3 annexes and stables are surrounded by a 60 acre estate of forest and countryside.

From Casa Vialba, the only other buildings you can see are those in the distant village of Montone and the Rocca d'Aires, a medieval castle dominating the valley from its far away hilltop.

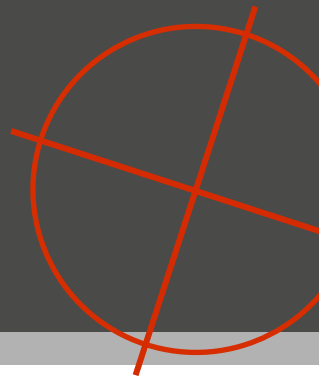

These beautiful stone houses have been restored to provide all modern comforts while retaining their original charm.

You will be living in Lavender House and/or Olive House and/or The Apartment, and while being our guests, you will enjoy the privacy of your own country house. Each house has its own garden, patio, barbeque area and private pool.
